Flex-time is meant for occasional deviations from the normal work day and is not meant to establish different working hours for an employee and as such is subject to monitoring by the employees direct supervisor and CAO.

1. The Personal Emergency Leave Bank (PELB) works in conjunction with the Flex-time & Banked Overtime Policies. Employees may bank Overtime hours in a PELB, in addition to the existing Banked OT/TO pool. Hours accumulated would go to one or the other, not both. Time would be tracked based on 1/2 hour increments and while this policy refers to days, the amount would be converted to hours based on the employees standard work week.
2. Adding hours to the PELB:
 - a. The PELB would have a maximum balance of 5 days of time.
 - b. Time would be added to the PELB from typical overtime events, as set out in Policy 5.05 - the employee would elect where the time is to be deposited
 - c. Time may also be added to the PELB from work on projects approved by the employees supervisor

 - e. There is more flexibility with replenishing PELB hours if they are utilized for a personal emergency situation
 - f. The maximum time that could be placed into the PELB over a year is 10 days.
 - g. Banked Overtime may be transferred into the PELB at any time, including just prior to year end. The transfer can only bring the PELB up to 5 days of time and must stay within the 10 days per year maximum transfer. Policy 5.05 will continue to apply to the Banked OT/TO balance.
3. Using Hours from the PELB
 - a. The PELB is intended to assist employees with taking time off for personal or family matters
 - b. Hours from the PELB may be used by an employee at their own discretion; however, there will be more flexibility to replenish hours if used for Personal Emergency Leave, as envisioned by the Policy

4. If employees do not maintain a separate PELB, a maximum of 5 days in the OT/TO Bank may be carried forward over year end. Policies related to establishing an opening balance or replenishing hours are only applicable to a PELB, not the OT/TO Bank.
- x. Public Works Management staff, if required to work overtime during the months of November, December, January, February and March of each year due to weather conditions shall have the option of being paid for those overtime hours at a straight time rate of pay, or of taking the equivalent hours off as lieu time.
